Evidence-Based Program Leader

Become trained as a workshop leader in falls prevention or chronic disease management to assist with facilitating workshops throughout the metro and/or virtually. We are currently looking for nurses that would commit to leading two workshops per year, one of these two workshops can be within your own congregation, if preferred. This opportunity is available to individuals currently certified as well as leaders seeking certification in a program.

Commitment: A minimum 2 workshop series per year per program. A workshop series typically meets for 1.5 to 2.5 hours per week for 6-8 weeks depending of the program. Leaders are also involved in planning and coordination of workshop with assistance from staff. Training required.

Wellness Screening Nurse

Help bring whole-person wellness screenings to the community in a variety of settings. This volunteer opportunity sometimes allows for mentoring nursing students, depending on screening. As a Wellness Screening Nurse, you may: train, observe, supervise, and mentor student nurses in completing whole person wellness screenings, mini-cogs, and phq-9s. Nurse may also administer wellness screening tools, if circumstances require.

Wellness screenings are currently offered in collaboration with the University of Minnesota at senior living organizations, within congregations, and at social service organizations. Wellness screenings are offered in collaboration with University of Northwestern and Souls for Soles at Union Gospel Mission and we hope to expand to the Opportunity Center in Minneapolis with volunteer support. We have also been approached by cities and larger venues to host screening events that may not involve students, we would not be able to partner in that capacity without volunteer nurses.

Commitment: Preferred commitment would vary dependent on type of wellness screening event you desire to volunteer at. Wellness Screenings held at homeless shelters will require a larger commitment. Screenings range from 3-5 hours in length and occur year-round but typically based around school year. Orientation required.

Administrative or Technical Support

Help behind the scenes with workshops, education events, and wellness screenings. Volunteers are always needed to serve as tech support during Foundations Course, virtual EBP workshops, and symposiums. Volunteers are also needed to assist with preparing for workshops, wellness screenings, and other events.

Commitment: Varies by task, 1-12 hours per month.

Project-Based or Skills-Based Volunteering as well as Committee work also available.
